

Latest innovations from Taiwan unveiled at Convergence India 2019

The COMPUTEX d&i awards and Taiwan Excellence pavilion presented the best in technology and innovation from Taiwan during Convergence India, at Pragati Maidan, New Delhi on Jan. 29-31.

In sync with global ICT trends, COMPUTEX is moving forward on Building Global Technology Ecosystems. As one of the best ICT shows on the rise, TAITRA is confident to attract more exhibitors from around the world with expanded exhibition space and also to exceed last year's overwhelming number of 42,284 international visitors from 168 countries.

COMPUTEX 2019 focuses on fundamentals and future trends such as AI & IoT, 5G, Blockchain, Innovations & Startups, and Gaming & XR. Feature exhibit includes Asia's biggest startup event - InnoVEX, a tech hub for international startups to meet global investors and manufacturing partners.

Moreover, COMPUTEX d&i awards, an innovation-focused competition, highlight and honor products with excellent design as well as technical innovation are being showcased at Convergence India.

Taiwan Excellence participated at Convergence India this year by revealing cutting-edge tech products to restate its commitment to support India's digital mission.

Some of the hottest products included Avison's Self-Service Copier and PaperAir 10, Edimax's EdiGreen Air Quality Detector with PM2.5, and many other prominent brands as well as a host of senior corporate leaders and stalwarts from leading Taiwanese brands.

India is emerging as a major sourcing destination for the ICT industry due to the various initiatives undertaken by the government like Digital India, Smart Cities, and Startup India. India's demand for development and Taiwan's willingness to share its expertise have led the two nations to become strategically complementary for mutual progress and benefit.

TAITRA has planned year-round activities in India to develop closer ties and increase further cooperation. Activities include meetings between government officials, trade delegations, industry seminars, and trade shows. SMART ASIA India - Expo & Summit, a B2B and B2G trade show initiated by TAITRA to facilitate India's ambitious 'Smart Cities Mission', will be held at the Bombay Exhibition Center (BEC) Oct. 17-19, 2019. It will focus on 'Smart Transportation', 'Smart Energy & Water Management', 'Smart City Development & Environmental Sustainability', and 'IoT Solutions' to grasp India's smart city business opportunities and to enhance further cooperation between the two countries.
